In The Press

Perfector has been featured on International, National and Regional television, including "Good Morning America", ABC & Fox News affiliates. It has also turned the heads of top editors and has been featured in major magazines and newspapers. The Perfector has been highlighted in books such as "You don't need Plastic Surgery" by Dr. Lautin, and "Inner Radiance, Outer Beauty" by Dr. Wauters, which discuss why Perfector is the best Nanocurrent machine on the market.

Oprah & Dr. Phil express that Perfector is the greatest new result oriented alternative to plastic surgery. The non-surgical face-lift!

Expected Results

Nano Perfector is the best alternative to plastic surgery. There is no downtime, redness or pain. Within weeks, wrinkles will disappear, acne will heal, and discoloration and scars will diminish. Perfector system is not only dramatic but also long lasting. Most importantly, it has a regenerative effect. It increases the local metabolism of the skin and muscle tissue, resulting in a corrective and preventative anti-aging treatment. It is able to reconstruct or re-educate the muscle tissue stretching or tightening as necessary. It will strengthen and tone loose and slack muscles, giving a firmer appearance to the face. It stimulates and speeds up the rate at which the body produces its own muscle protein and adenosine triphosphate synthesis (ATP) to reduce the aging effects on muscle tissue. It is also able to stimulate and speed up the rate at which the skin produces its own connective tissue fibers, collagen and elastin, so increasing the supportive framework of the dermis.

What is a Nano signal?

Nanocurrent is a cell regeneration system based on the research conducted in London and Oxford Universities after the Nobel Winning Discovery that the cell membrane has electricity. Nano Perfector utilizes complex waveforms and adjustable voltage to deliver a high definition signal designed to achieve resonance with cellular biological processes. The Nano signal owes its clarity and accuracy to its microscopic size that minimizes resistance or biological "noise". Cells communicate through a number of chemical and electrical processes. The end result of a chemical and/or electrical process can be seen as a communication signal. The translation of this intricate biological language promises to identify hidden solutions for various physiological events, including aging. Artificially resonating the cellular language unlocks a number of biological processes such as increasing collagen, elastin, cell proliferation, blood circulation and regenerating new tissue. It builds new tissue; lifts' sagging muscles and gives you younger looking glowing skin. Within weeks, wrinkles will disappear, acne will heal, and discolorations and scars will diminish. Perfector's non-abrasive skin resurfacing detoxifies and deep cleanses the skin from dead cells and impurities without thinning the skin as microdermabrasion and peels eventually do. The superior results of Nanocurrent compared to microdermabrasion are astounding.

How Does it Work?

As we age, skin cell production begins to slow down resulting in a build up of dead skin cells, wrinkles and drooping skin. Nanocurrent produces proliferation of cells by fibroblasts' secretion of proteins such as collagen. Additionally, it works on the nerves and muscle cells to increase tonicity of the fine facial muscles. Clinical research has shown that the results of the Perfector system are not only dramatic but long lasting. Perfector heals and regenerates tissue; it is a corrective and preventive anti-aging treatment unlike other relative systems such as muscle stimulators whose temporary effect acts as a band-aid in the aging process.

How Does the Cell Regenerate?

A number of investigators have found that under the influence of low frequency Nanocurrent, cells are capable of de-differentiation. Mature, fully differentiated cells are able to retrogress to an embryonic form, and re-differentiate into whatever cell types are needed for complete regeneration. In order to regenerate, the cell needs a certain amount of energy. The total energy of the cell can be estimated chemically from the amount of ATP (adenosine triphosphate) available. This molecule is the basic energy source of all cell activities, including protein synthesis such as Collagen and Elastin and the synthesis of DNA. ATP also serves a direct vital function in the active transport mechanism known as the sodium pump that is responsible for the movement of sodium, potassium, and calcium across the cell's membranes. When the pump is not functioning, cellular metabolic waste builds up in toxic concentrations while the cell is starving. Several studies have shown a significant increase of ATP up to 500% with low intensity Nanocurrent stimulation, under 1,000 nanoamps.

About Nanocurrent Perfector

Perfector is exclusively manufactured in the UK. It is a high tech computer, with software that determines its various programs. Perfector has eight programs, three of which enhance cell regeneration, muscle toning, oxygenation and circulation. Two of Perfector's programs are designed for a highly efficient lymphatic drainage. A high frequency program is used in conjunction with lymphatic drainage and oxygenation, to treat Pigmentation's and Rosacea. Clinical studies have shown that Perfector's high frequency program results in:

- 1) A constriction of pigment and therefore the instant reduction of skin pigmentations.
- 2) A constriction of blood vessels and therefore a reduction of erythma, (redness) on the skin. Dark circles and puffiness are easily treated by lymphatic drainage. Perfector also offers a deep absorption program designed to enhance substance utilization by the skin, so that the various serums, and other nutrients applied, are highly absorbed. Perfector's magnetic deep cleansing program eliminates impurities and non-abrasively exfoliates the skin from debris and dead cells.

Programs

Oxygenation

This program is designed to enhance circulation, a corrective and preventive anti-aging treatment. It increases cell oxygenation and improves skin circulation. It refreshes and regenerates the dull skin of the smoker and heals sun damage.

Lymphatic Drainage

This program removes dark circles & puffiness under and around the eyes by removing toxic waste. It also diminishes the signs of secondary aging, triggered by stress.

Lifting

This program builds tissue and accelerates cell production by increasing fibroblast secretion, proteins and collagen. Additionally, it works on the nerves and muscle cells to increase tonicity of the fine facial muscles.

Firming

This program speeds up the regeneration of skin and muscle cells. It builds new tissue; lifts' sagging muscles and gives you younger looking skin. Removes skin discoloration, scars and heals melasma, Rosacea and acne.

Ionization / High absorption

This program allows the skin to accept collagen / elastin serums, creams, and masks for maximum absorption by the skin.

Non-abrasive Skin Resurfacing

This program is non-abrasive. The resurfacing vigorously detoxifies and deep cleanses the skin of dead cells and impurities without thinning the skin, leaving the skin glowing. Dramatic results with acne, and skin discoloration.
